

Markgravenstraat 19-21, 2000 Antwerp.
Belgium. Telephone: (031) 31 56 25.
Cable address: Interpoint
Telex: 33999 Point B

World News in Depth. Published fortnightly

Managing Director: Ernst Smit

Editors: Anthony Mertens
Gordon van der Merwe

Managing Editor: Horst Peters

Deputy Editors: Alan Dean, Richard Wilson

Editorial Staff: David North (Senior), Graham Fysh, Hans Germani, Philip Grenard, Pat Lefevere, James
Mahoney, Didi Moore, Flavia Morrison.

Correspondents and Associates:

EUROPE: Athens: Evangelos Antonaros,
Belgrade: Joan Gaborov. Bern: Hansjürg Saager.
Brussels: Peter Lynch, Howard Williams. Cologne: John Bouwer. Copenhagen: Chris Follett. Dublin: Arturo F.
Gonzalez. Edinburgh: John Ayres, Robert D. Kernohan.
Geneva: Rod Chapman. Istanbul: Dimitri Nesteroff.
London: David Fletcher, Moona French-Hodges,
Veronica Kruger, Matthew Lewin, Ian Mather, Terry
O'Connor. Madrid: Harry Debelius, Robert Richards.
Malmö: Eric Brodin. Munich: Peter Hornung. Paris:
Paul Giniewski, Martin Holt. Rome: Giuseppe
Dall'Ongaro, Massimo Tosti. Vienna: Dixon Hsu, Peter Lessing.

AFRICA: To The Point International News Service:
Abidjan, Algiers, Cairo, Dakar, Dar es Salaam, Freetown,
Johannesburg, Kinshasa, Lagos, Nairobi, Rabat, Tunis,
Tripoli, Yaoundé.

NORTH AND SOUTH AMERICA: Chicago: Jameson
Campagne Jr. Miami: Colin Dangaard. New York:
Jeff Endrst, Anthony de Vito. Ottawa: Donald Coxé.
Puerto Rico: Earl Copeland Jr. Toronto: John Phillips.
Washington: Allan C. Brownfeld. Williamsburg: John Makulowich, Gail Shiner. Buenos Aires: Marsha Taylor.
Montevideo: Alphonse Max.

MIDDLE AND FAR EAST: Amman: John Bonar. Bangkok:
Guy Scandlen. Beirut: Margaret Heston. Colombo:
D. Wickramanayake. Hong Kong: Alan Castro, Sheila Gardiner. Jerusalem: Philip Gillon, Donna Rosenthal.
New Delhi: S.R. Mohan Das. Singapore: Dietrich Strasser.
Taipei: Joe Nerbonne, Chen Yih. Teheran: Yousof
Mazandi. Tel Aviv: Harold Blumberg. Tokyo: Henri Hymans.

SOUTH PACIFIC: Canberra: Peter Samuel. Christchurch:
Rick Swinard. Sydney: Bob Cummins, Edwin Maher.

Prof. Christiaan Barnard, John Fisher, Dr. Otto von Habsburg, Jan Heitink, Prof. Richard Pattee,
Patrick Wall MP.

Layout: Paul Aitchison.

Copyright exchange: Le Point, Paris -
To The Point, Johannesburg.

Advertising Sales Manager: Brian Bowes

Production and

Circulation Manager: H. van der Masch Spakler

Circulation Assistant: Hans Elekan

Administration Manager: A. Van Cleemput

United States Mailing Agent:

European Publishers Representative, Inc.
11-03 46th Avenue, Long Island City, New York 11101.
Second Class Postage Paid at Long Island
City and Additional Offices.

Owned and published by:

TO THE POINT INTERNATIONAL N.V. Belgium

Filmsetting: De Schutter, Antwerp, Belgium.

Printing: Smeets Offset, Weert, the Netherlands.

Publisher and Chairman:

Hubert G. Jussen.

Chairman Editorial Board:

Martin W. Duyzings.

Assistant to the Publisher:

Dr. I. von Jacobi.

TO THE POINT INTERNATIONAL
is a European-based fortnightly magazine offering objective analysis of world events. It provides a special section on the fast-developing countries of Africa, thus creating a much-needed dialogue between that vital continent and the rest of the world.

Copyright 1975

CONTENTS

World in Depth: Counting the casualties of an endless war 6

Aktion
Friedensdorf
Oberhausen

Where the victims of Vietnam are put back together again 7

Starfighter follow-up: the dogfight gets hotter 8

US moves in the oil war: the coming crunch 10

As Brezhnev's red carpet rolls back, the shoe-fill shuffle 12

Point Report: The time-bomb truce explodes 14

People: Who's in the news 16

Business & Finance: Oil-shocked Japan steels itself 20

In-the-red China, aiming for expansion 23

The ship-makers founder on the economic rocks 24

That's the way the Arab oil money goes 25

Hobday's Choice: Which work do you firm for? 26

African Background: Big Jim's jaunt: Where he went; who he saw; and what it meant 27

Mobutu's Ten Commandments for a new, authentic Zaire 30

Angola's freedom in-fighters form a fragile front 31

Ethiopia: the Arab tug-o'-war over Eritrea 33

Point Analysis: Minthoff takes a not-so-slow boat to China 36

Environment: Devastated Darwin and the pangs of rebirth 38

Medicine: Nigeria gets the blame for cholera outbreak 40

Education: To defrost a German fridge, first untie the tongue 43

The Law: The cost of lost love, and the mention of it 45

Sport: The girls' goal — self-rule soccer 46

Off-Beat: Going for a publishing record: the men from the Guinness Book 48

Cinema: That's Entertainment that was, back in (show) business 49

Art: The art of being a patron, by Peggy Guggenheim 50

Books: What Nkrumah said to Stokely Carmichael 52

JANUARY 25, 1975 TO THE POINT INTERNATIONAL

Letters

Letters

Chris Follett purports (vol. 1, issue 18) to give an account of Kare Holt's most recent novel, Kap-pløpet. (Please observe the spelling; the reviewer had both the author and the book's title wrong). Kappløpet is a repulsive novel. Frequent references to recorded incidents serve the purpose of lending it an unearned air of documentary objectivity. Facts and fiction, half-truths and lies, mixed with the author's biased interpretations, are employed to paint an ugly picture of Roald Amundsen. Chris Follett commits the error of literally swallowing Holt's product hook, line and sinker. Uncritically, even gleefully, he accepts the wildly-distorted image of Roald Amundsen which Holt presents.

Kåre Holt's motive for writing this book is easy to comprehend. He wants to be a leveller. The very idea of Greatness is deplorable and unbearable to him. In Holt's ideal universe of anti-heroes, drop-outs and losers there could be no place for an individual with such exceptional qualities as Amundsen. Holt had to cut Amundsen down to his own proportions. So it's understandable — although by no means excusable — that he wrote the book.

One sees no rational explanation, however, for Follett's conduct. He actually manages to out-Holt Holt himself in mastering the ignoble Art of Smearing. Where is the motive? Why this weird display of such malice, ignorance and stupidity?

O.G. Skagestad, Oslo.